EDITORIAL

We are glad to be able to present to our readers some facts concerning the Four Year Course, adopted by the Board of Principals. We invite attention to the article by Mr. Gordon and the one by Miss Keller.

The work of the school has proceeded as usual under the direction of the different committees of the faculty. The Social Life Committee and the Lecture Course Committee, under the efficient direction of Miss Leonard, have provided us with feasts of reason and those stimuli needed to prevent our becoming "stale" on our work. The Committee on Religious Work, spurred on by the chairman, Miss Hall, has nobly done its work. As to the work done by the Committee on Athletics, under the control of Mr. Jack, one need only examine the present issue to get some idea of their activities. Some of the other committees do not come into the public eye so prominently but they have all been busy and deserve praise which must be given at another time.

The cover design of this issue is another example of the work of the Supervisors' Class, a contribution from Miss Stella Lamb.

THE FOUR YEAR COURSE

The Four-Year Course of study which is printed in this issue will prove of interest to many readers. This course is based on the one adopted by the Normal School Principals and approved by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, May 4, 1910.

Certain features of the course and certain rules and regulations adopted by the Board of Principals should be carefully examined by prospective students. This concerns especially the closing out of the old course.

The first year when students will be graduated from the Four Year Course is 1913. This is also the last year that students will be graduated from the Three Year Course. A student entering on the Three Year Course in 1910 will fail to graduate in the Three Year Course if he fail in a single year's work. Students who are considering entering on the Three Year Course next fall will do well to give the matter careful thought and not overestimate their powers. This matter is of the greater importance since the Four Year Course is so different from the Three Year Course that passing from one to the other will not be easy.

In the fall of 1910 students may be admitted to the first and to the second year of the Four Year Course, so as to graduate in the year 1913.

Candidates for admission to the first year of the Four Year Course will be examined by the Faculty in penmanship, U. S. history, geography, grammar, physiology, civics, and the elements of algebra to quadratics. Graduates, however, of approved Pennsylvania high schools of the third grade will be admitted to the first year, without examination by the Faculty, conditioned in such subjects as they have not satisfactorily completed. Graduates of high schools of the second grade may be admitted to the second year. Graduates of high schools of the first grade and of city high schools, as listed by the Department of Public Instruction, may enter the third year. Graduates of four year college courses, approved by the University Council, may enter the fourth year. In each of these cases, except the last, the student may be conditioned by the State Board of Examiners.

M. C. Gordon.

ADVANTAGES OF THE FOUR YEAR COURSE

It is good news that at last Pennsylvania has made herself equal to her sister states by adopting a four year course of study for normal schools. Many studies are now elective, and students may pursue some studies which appeal most to them.

Students who have pursued the Four Year Course will soon be preferred to those who have pursued the Three Year Course. Superintendents and principals will naturally prefer teachers who are best equipped for their work, and the new course provides for additional training in teaching, and especially in methods of presentation. Very soon this query will confront the prospective teacher: "You were one of the Three Year graduates?" and the inevitable reply will be, "We shall look further." This is only a fair question, because every business-like person prefers to have his affairs looked after by the people who are best fitted for the work, and why should this not prove true in regard to the education of children?

Another advantage of the new course is, that graduates of the Four Year Course will have a better chance to secure high school positions. Most high schools employ only college graduates, but now that the course has been extended, the Normal graduate will have a much more thorough training in high school work.

The diploma of the Four Year graduate will be recognized by school authorities in western and southern states, except where the course is six years, and this will be invaluable to those who wish to teach outside of Pennsylvania.

Beginning with 1910, graduates of approved high schools of the second grade will be permitted to enter the second year of the Four Year course, and graduate in 1913. Thus the course may be completed in three years, a much better plan than risking the treacherous Junior-Middle Course, which has caused so many ship-wrecks.

The subjects of Agriculture, Public Speaking, Sociology, and a thorough course in Science, should prove a drawing card to prospective students. These all promise to be most interesting and will form a broad basis for general culture.

To those who anticipate only an additional year of hard work, this brief survey of the advantages to be reaped from the Four Year Course should at least, open up a new line of thought, and it is to be hoped that all students of our normal schools will enter into the work with a spirit that will make the new course very successful.

Bess Helen Keller.

THE COMING OF THE COMET TO INDIANA

Never before had so many alarm clocks sounded as on one particular Saturday morning about three o'clock. Then there was a general commotion, a movement toward the east windows, and a whispering,—“Can you see it yet?” “Is it coming?” But there was nothing visible except the bright stars in the dark sky.

A few minutes silence followed during which the sky was thoroughly searched for some mysterious looking object. Suddenly a beam of light appeared extending across the sky and at the same time all whispered, “There it is! See!”

Just then the night watchman came down the hall and, as he passed the groups of girls, he said in an excited tone, “Hurry, girls, it's coming! It's coming!” With that, other girls appeared and the east windows were crowded with faces anxiously gazing into the morning sky.

The ray was situated in the southeastern sky about half way between the zenith and the horizon and was about fifteen degrees from Venus. By this time it had grown much brighter and at the eastern extremity a star had made its appearance. The other extremity faded away in the shades of night, making the whole object appear about twelve feet in length.

Not only girls had left their beds to see this nightly visitor, but teachers as well, and as we stood gazing at it, one of the teachers told us that she had just been disturbed by seeing the comet in her dreams. “But,” she said, “my dream was quite different from the real comet. It was extremely bright, so much so that it hurt my eyes to look upon it. It was also turned in a different direction from this one.”

Within a half hour this celestial visitor disappeared as quietly as it had come, leaving the spectators wondering whether its experiences were not more interesting than theirs.

HUYGHENIAN NOTES

Our society has opened a very successful term. Harry Clawson, the new president, gave an excellent address, when taking his seat of office, and we are sure that he will fill it with honor to himself and to the society.

The programs have been well prepared and the debates, especially, have shown excellent preparation. One thing which we aim at is good order. This has not yet reached the standard which we desire but we hope that through the efforts of each member this will be attained.

"The Taming of the Shrew" was recently given by members of the society. Each one showed his ability in taking his part well and the talent which we have in our society was well brought out.

We hope to make this term the most successful term and with the aid of all the members we are sure of succeeding.

Ella McKnight.

THE ERODELPHIAN PLAY

The Erodelphian play "Charley's Aunt" was given in Library Hall on the evening of April 30. Loyalty to the society was shown by the large and appreciative audience. The cast was well chosen and the whole performance gave evidence of careful preparation under the able supervision of Miss Applegate. During the entire performance the audience was in one gale of laughter at the pranks of "Charley's Aunt." Altogether this year's play will go down in the annals of the Erodelphian society as one of the best that has ever been given.

PI KAPPA SIGMA NOTES

On May 9th, Pi Kappa Sigma entertained the Alpha Kappa Phi girls at a picnic. Owing to the inclemency of the weather, the basket-ball room, decorated in sorority colors, was resorted to.

At an invitation meeting, held on May 16th, at the home of Bess Keller, the following pledged members became active: Jane Creese, Anna Young, Elsie Beck, Edna Blinn, and Jean Lacock.

The sorority will give its annual banquet at the New Indiana House, May 28th, at 7:30. The guests expected are: Dr. and Mrs. Ament, Miss Leonard, Mr. Jack, and the alumnae of sorority.

The following toasts will be proposed by the toast mistress, Agnes Sligh:

"Pinks and Roses and Other Fine Posies."—Miss Leonard.

"The Daughters Saw Her and Called Her Blessed."—Grace Courtney, '10.

Song—Pi Kappa Sigma.

"The Thread of Memory."—Henrietta Keelan, '09.

"Indiana and Her Future."—Dr. Ament.

Song—Alma Mater.

LUCIA'S LOVER

The Phi Kappa Pi Sorority gave the farce "Lucia's Lover" in the Normal Chapel on May 14th for the benefit of the new infirmary. The play was a great success financially and a very enjoyable evening was spent by all who were present. Much credit is due to Miss Elizabeth Eyre who so ably assisted the girls.

Miss McGregor .....	Edna Pickles
Chauncey, An adopted child.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES

On May 1st and 2nd, Miss Elsie V. Jones, the student secretary for this district, visited our association. During her visit she met the various committees and made many helpful suggestions for the betterment of their work.

On Monday afternoon the girls of the Association gave a reception for Miss Jones on the east porch. All enjoyed meeting her and hope that she may soon come again.

CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION
NOTES

The Rev. H. Lester Smith, of Buffalo, N. Y., whom the old students remember with pleasure from last year, held a series of evangelistic meetings, under the auspices of our Christian Association from May 8 to 13.

Mr. Smith's visit had long been looked forward to by both associations, and we are happy to say that the meetings were even better than had been anticipated.

On Sabbath evening, May 8, the annual sermon before the Christian Association was delivered in the chapel before a large audience. The choir of the First Presbyterian church of Indiana added to the meeting by singing two beautiful anthems. On each evening during the week Mr. Smith held a short service between the dinner hour and study hour. These meetings were very well attended, and were an unusual treat, and deeply impressed us all.

The chapel exercises were also conducted by Mr. Smith during his stay, and the short practical talks which he gave each morning will be long remembered.

At the last meeting pledge cards were passed and many of the students signed them; about eighty taking a definite stand in the Christian life for the first time, and many others renewing their vows.

Mr. Smith's attractive personality and consecrated spirit won him a place in all our hearts, and it was with regret that we saw him leave Indiana. Plans are started to have him return next year.

EASTERN ART AND MANUAL TRAINING TEACHERS' CONVENTION AT BOSTON,
May 1910.

On May fourth, some two or three hundred Drawing and Manual teachers met in Boston to confer with one another, and to observe work done in their respective departments. Mr. Henry T. Bailey, President of the Association, welcomed the teachers at a Reception held in the beautiful new Museum of Fine Arts. Aside from the social pleasure of the evening, the visitors were able to see Turner's "Slave Ship", Thayer's "Caritas", Stuart's "George and Martha Washington"; the lovely girl's head by Praxiteles; the beautiful Japanese collection uniquely set in a reproduction of a Japanese building with its wonderful garden and wood carvings, and many more lovely things.

The mornings were given to addresses and business and the afternoons to excursions, visits to schools, etc. One of the ablest addresses was made by Dr. David Snedden, the Commissioner of Education for Massachusetts, who spoke on the Course of Study in the Elementary Schools. Dr. Snedden seems much in favor of introducing elective courses in the grades so that pupils in the 7th year may begin to specialize. In the literary course, 30 hours per week, 5 hours are devoted to Drawing and the Industrial Arts. In the manual arts course, 30 hours per week, 10 hours are devoted to these topics. The educational world will watch with interest the development of this phase of work in so progressive a state as Massachusetts.

Another address of great interest was that made by Mr. Churchill of Smith College on the teaching of History of Art. The development of his subject was unique, showing fine thinking, the points made being illustrated with beautiful slides.

Miss Sarah Louise Arnold, Dean of Simmon's College, spoke on the helpfulness of Art to all the subjects taught, especially aiding those along industrial lines.

Mr. George DeForest Brush, the painter, interested everyone, both by his unusual personality and by his criticism of methods in teaching. He would teach by showing pupils how he works rather than by words.

The teachers were invited to inspect work in the schools; one excursion going to Brookline where work was displayed in the Elementary and High Schools. One was impressed with the harmony and good fellowship throughout the teaching force. Excellent work, well selected and tastefully arranged, was seen in the several buildings visited. At the High School, the visitors were served with tea and cakes prepared by the girls in the Domestic Science Department. Here Miss Irene Weir exhibited her work and showed all those who came hospitality and beauty in the surrounding and the producing of Art work.

A very interesting visit was paid to the Washington Allston School where Mr. Leavitt has worked out, through his teachers, a very interesting problem. A flat is rented by the Board of Education and the 7th and 8th Grade boys and girls through their industrial training have done all the necessary work to furnish it; the boys making the furniture, and the girls sewing the curtains, bed and table linen. The pupils were allowed to spend as much as two hours per day in the Industrial work.

Another afternoon was spent in Historic Cambridge. Art teachers were especially interested in Dr. Denman Ross' department, Harvard University, Fogg's Museum, and the splendid collection of casts given by Emperor William II of Germany. But more interesting because of their unusual product and their charitable aim were the Art Fabric Shops where beautiful artistic rugs, hangings, pillow covers, etc., are woven by blind women and girls. Dr. Campbell who is at the head of this work and who has successfully established it in the state of Massachusetts is soon to be located in Pittsburgh, where he will work out the problem with our blind. I am sure that he will meet with a hearty welcome and I hope a substantial support.

Miss Alice Longfellow and Mrs. Dana graciously showed guests through Craigie House and garden. One surely felt that one was treading on hallowed ground. Visitors were also shown through the Lowell home, Elmwood, and to end a most charming day, Mrs. Byron S. Hurlbut served tea in her lovely home.

Many other excursions were planned such as trips through "Old Boston," and to Concord and Lexington. One very pleasant afternoon was spent at Wellesley College. Every one had the opportunity to see Boston's Public Library with its beautiful mural decorations; to see the Phillip Brooks' Memorial; to see the beautiful new Medical Buildings for Harvard and many more points of interest.

Everyone felt that the meeting was a most profitable and pleasant one. Many thanks and much credit should be given to the generous and whole-hearted President, Mr. Bailey, who through hard work had provided for us such a rich program, and had arranged the many excursions. We had a good time, learned much of profit, were inspired and refreshed, and are sincerely grateful to all those who combined to entertain us.

Supervisor of Drawing,

The Commencement exercises for 1910 open with the Baccalaureate Sermon by Rev. Dr. McIlvaine of Calvary Episcopal Church, Pittsburgh, Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, June 26, in the Presbyterian Church. The Commencement concert will be on Monday evening at 8 o'clock, June 27, in the chapel. Business meeting of the Alumni Association will be on Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, June 28, in the Chapel. "As You Like It" will be given by the Ben Greet Players, Tuesday afternoon, June 28, in the Normal grove and "Midsummer Night's Dream" by the Ben Greet Players at 8 P. M. in the same place. After the play, there will be orchestra music and a luncheon followed by an Alumni dance.

This is the Tenth Anniversary for the class of 1900 and the twentieth for the class of 1890. Both classes are cordially invited by the Trustees and the Faculty to the school for these anniversary celebrations. Commencement will be unusually attractive this year. The new annex is completed and occupied now by students. But as many of the students leave for home immediately after the State examinations we hope to be able to entertain comfortably all of our Commencement guests. It is hoped that the classes will show their usual enthusiasm and loyalty by a full attendance. All new members who have joined the classes by marriage or otherwise are as cordially invited as those who left us in 1890 and 1900. The evenings of Commencement week are to have the splendor of the full moon. Full moon and "Midsummer Night's Dream" in the Normal grove! Who can resist?

The music at Commencement this year, in attractiveness, will not be in the least behind the Ben Greet Players. In the Faculty, as well as in the music classes, there are singers of unusual training and brilliancy among whom we cannot refrain from mentioning Miss Farlin, Miss Hanley, and Miss Cogswell.

Miss Cogswell has returned from a year's study under New York masters.

From the Front Royal Sentinel we take the following regarding Julia Preston, a last year's graduate of our Conservatory:

"The largest audience that has ever filed into the Murphy Opera House, since it has been in use, was present Tuesday night, when Miss Julia Starr Preston, the accomplished music instructor of Front Royal College, gave a recital.

As we stated in our last issue, Miss Preston needed no introduction to the music lovers and others of our own town, which was plainly borne out by the packed house.

So absorbed was the audience in the young lady's performance one could have heard a pin drop, except at the end of each number, when a most fervent wave of applause would sweep over the house.

During the evening, Miss Preston was presented with several large bouquets of roses, by admiring friends."

Musical artists, as well as popular audiences, speak goldenly of Miss Phyllis Hammond, a graduate of our musical course several years ago. She, indeed, "plays on the golden harp of many strings." On the last occasion that she appeared before the public, the harp that she played upon, was loaned to her by E. Scheunecker of Boston, one of the greatest harpists of his time. Miss Hammond is his favorite pupil. She is greatly in demand for concerts in Boston and New York. We hope to have her at Indiana on some future occasion.

Ella King Vogel, '90, sailed on June 4th for Europe as conductor of a party of eight young girls. The itinerary includes England, France, Germany, Switzerland, Austria, Italy, Holland, Belgium and Scotland. The party will do considerable coaching in Scotland and England and will visit both the Passion Play and the Exposition at Brussels. Miss Vogel spent six months last year at the University of Berlin, and since her return has been Principal of the High School in Atlanta, Illinois, teaching German there. Miss Vogel will miss her class reunion this year as she did ten years ago. She was then at the Passion Play of 1900.

Mrs. Bess Hammond Hite, a graduate of our Conservatory of Music, afterwards a student at the Oberlin Conservatory of Music, then of New York College of Music, and later a student of Theory of Music under Edward Alexander McDowell, and still later winning the highest honors of her class and the scholarship of Beveridge Webster in the Pittsburg Conservatory of Music, is now a member of the Faculty of the Mendelssohn Conservatory of Music in Johnstown, Pa.

Married, April 27, 1910, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Lewis Camblin, Mr. William Emerson Keener, '01, and Miss Margaret Edna Camblin. The new home has been established in Pittsburgh.

---

Mrs. Anderson (Blanche Barnes, '86) has been making a week's visit at the Normal. From her appearance it is hard to believe that it is twenty-four years since she graduated. Since her graduation she has resided in St. Louis, Buffalo, Pittsburgh, Detroit, Chicago, and New York City and two years she spent on a ranch in California. But she says that throughout her varied travels and experiences she has found no country more beautiful than Pennsylvania and no associations quite so tender as those of her years at Indiana.

Married, on June 2, 1910, in Zion's Evangelical Lutheran Church at Mechanicsburg, Pennsylvania, Ross M. Hosack, '05, to Lovie W. Bard. Immediately after the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Hosack sailed for England, where they expect to remain indefinitely.

Mr. Charles Woods, a graduate of the Conservatory in 1908, who has been for two years the very successful supervisor of music in the Braddock schools, has resigned his position to take up similar work in South Africa.

Dr. Paul M. St. Clair, of the Blockley Hospital staff in Philadelphia, died in that institution on Wednesday evening, May 11, 1910, at the age of twenty-seven years. He died from inflammation of the brain and was ill but a few days. After attending the Normal School he went to the Medico-Chirurgical College in Philadelphia and graduated in 1906. He was appointed on the Blockley Hospital staff and afterward made assistant physician of the Indianapolis State Insane Hospital. He remained there two years and then returned to Bolckley Hospital, having been appointed resident physician of that institution.

We greatly regret to learn that S. H. Whitehill, Esq., of Brookville, Pa., one of the four members of our first graduating class, has been seriously ill all winter. We wish for his early recovery.

The Normal lovers of base-ball are interested to hear that John Baird has made good with the Altoona Tri-State Team.

Leonard Smith and Rankin Tomb, both of 1909, are conducting summer schools. The former at Gypsy and the latter at Georgeville.

Clara Wood, '04, teaches through the school year in the Pittsburgh schools and then instructs in Basketry in the Allegheny Summer Schools.

Anna May Watson, 1909, Conservatory of Music, has just completed a successful year as supervisor of music in the schools of Westmont, Franklin and Cone-mbaugh.

Our former student, Stanley McNees, recently sued Charles A. Sims & Co. for injuries received in being knocked from one of the firm's engines about four years ago, and has been awarded a verdict of $7,450.50. Though not nearly enough we are glad he received so much.

Martha Thompson Stuchell, '07, will be graduated from Wilson College this year as the honor student of her class.

We keep hearing from our students in the business world. John P. Archibald, '93, of Blairsville, was chosen a member of the Executive Committee, of the State Jewelers' Association at the annual convention held in Philadelphia.

The Herald wishes to join in congratulations to J. D. Ayres, '91. We take the following from the Pittsburgh papers:

"Announcement has been made that J. D. Ayres, assistant cashier of the Bank of Pittsburg, N. A., has been elected vice president of the institution and will enter on his duties at once. This position is a new one, having been created by the directors at a recent meeting, when it was decided that Mr. Ayres was the man to fill it.

Mr. Ayres has been connected with the bank for a number of years, and has been known among the financial fraternity as a strong man, well qualified for any position of trust, and particularly qualified by education and training for the detail of banking. He is well known in the Pittsburg district and many distant States. He has been called upon frequently to visit the annual gatherings of banking associations and has gathered a vast fund of information of particular value to the well-known institution to which he has given his allegiance. Mr. Ayres was receiving the congratulations of his friends yesterday, and the directors of the bank were also congratulated on so happy a selection for the important position."

Verna Morris, '04, has been living in California since December, in Bakersville, in the midst of the oil and gold industry. She reports it as a most interesting place to be. Verna Morris is likely to impart charm to any place where she is.

The Republican party of the Colorado, politicians as well as the people, the ring as well as the reformers, are determined to make our old student, Dr. Hubert Work, governor of that state. He persistently refuses and when the doctor takes a stand, he stands. In his decision he is most wise for he has an immense practice in his profession and in his specialty he is an acknowledged expert. He is too young, by twenty years, to think of putting aside the work in which he is master, for politics, even though it may take the form of governor of a great state. As it is his political influence is widely felt on the side of reform as Chairman of the Republican State Central Committee. The Normal is proud of him, not because he is successful, but because he stands on the right side.

THE TRACK TEAM.

The promise held out by the work of the track team in the indoor meets has been more than fulfilled. The team is a much more powerful scoring machine than was last year's championship team.

On April 29th the relay team under the leadership of Captain Castaneda and Mr. Jack started for Philadelphia to compete in the University of Pennsylvania Relay Races, held on the next day. Nine teams appeared for the race. Among them were Gettysburg College, Ursinus College, Maryland Agricultural College, College of the City of New York and the University of Maryland.

Myers, captain of last year's team running the first relay opened up a lead of about ten yards. Smith, the next Normal runner held this lead. In the third relay the Maryland Agricultural College took a lead of fifteen yards with Normal second. Captain Castaneda ran a very fast race in his last relay and was barely beaten to the tape by the last runner for Maryland Agricultural College. Ursinus was a poor third. The time 3:34 2/5 was fast. Normal's time, under 3:35 was about 5 seconds better than the best time made by last year's team.

On June 6th a team of nine men competed in the State College Interscholastic meet for the championship of Central and Western Pennsylvania. Normal won the meet easily, scoring almost twice as many points as Dickinson Seminary, the second team. The feature of the meet was the work of Myers and Captain Castaneda. Myers won the 120 yard hurdles in 15 3/5 seconds, a new interscholastic record for the United States. He also won the low hurdles in 26 seconds and made a new school record of 20—8 inches in the broad jump. Castaneda was disqualified in the final heat of the 100 yards for running out of his lane. His trial heat was in 10 seconds and only a poor start prevented his running the final in faster time. Both heat and final in the 220 he won easily in 22 seconds. He also scored in the shot put, discus throw and high jump. Little, a new man this year, won the shot put and scored in both the hammer and discus. Bruce won the half mile and was fourth in the mile.

The following is from a Philadelphia paper:

PENN STATE MEET IS A BIG SUCCESS.

State College, Pa., May 6.—The second annual track and field meet held by the Penn State Athletic Association was a decided success from every standpoint. The weather was ideal and was responsible for the fast time made in several events.

The individual scholarship was won by Myers, of Indiana Normal, who scored 15 points; Castaurda, of the same school, was a close second with 13 points. The prizes, which were gold, silver and bronze, were donated by the New York Alumni Association.

The competing teams scored: Indiana Normal, 45; Dickinson, 25; Johnstown High, 19; Canton High, 18; Juniata Prep. School, 16; Bellefonte Academy, 11; Central Manual, 9; Berwick High, 4; Danville High and Bloomsburgh Normal, 3. Summaries:

Tuesday, May 24th. This will be followed by one or two dual meets.

The dual meet with Kiski has been called off. The management of Kiski declined to hold the meet, stating that their team could not hope to make even a respectable showing against the Normal team.

BASE BALL.

The Baseball season for 1910 was opened on Normal's field, April 25 with Allegheny High School. There was disappointment felt in not being able to secure the usual opening game with Johnstown Tri-State team owing to the fact that Johnstown opened with St. Vincent. Grave fears were entertained about the strength of Normal's team and before a large curious crowd the team rose out of defeat in the fifth inning to a victory of 8-6. It was plain that there were new men needed who would still make Indiana Normal a factor to be reckoned with in the coming struggles.

May 3rd the team journeyed to Grove City but rain prevented the game. Thursday found everyone eager for a victory at Dayton Normal and the team returned its defeat of Monday by a victory 7—2. Blose, a new recruit in the box, in spite of the freezing weather, gave an exhibition of baseball worthy of a veteran, allowing two scratch hits. He had eight team mates that were there to give him perfect assistance whenever called for.

May 4th, Brookville High was eager to try Normal's metal. With two out in the ninth inning and the victory easily in the hands of the visitors, 5—2, four remarkable errors allowed the H. S. to run in four scores and snatch the victory already announced half way back home. Brookville was no less surprised than Normal was astonished.

The last game of the trip was played at Punxy, on the old Tri-State grounds. This town can get up some good league men in a doubtful contest and it was clear that Normal was going to shut them out to win. Blose was again on the rubber and demonstrated his ability by shutting them out and winning his own game, 1—0. The team had begun to find its pace. No longer need there be fears for a strong team at Normal.

May 9th found Dayton Normal back on home grounds determined to win back lost laurels. Spear pitched grand ball, but seeing the visitors were "loaded" a fresh pitcher relieved him in the eighth, Blose in the 10th inning again showed his ability as a "run getter" and scored the run that broke the tie 2—2.

But the real test of the team was coming the next day with Grove City. Fresh from a 1—0 victory with Kiski, the visitors were confident of a "clean-up." Far from winning Grove City did not get but one man on bases in six innings while Normal had six men, with Martin eagerly dancing at 3rd base in a threatening manner in the first inning. Then came a bad inning, the 6th, in which the visitors scored five runs. Hart opened things up in the seventh that resulted in four runs. This ended the scoring.

In a loosely played game in which Normal's second team might have beaten the first, the team was defeated at Bellefonte on May 14th. Heavy hitting featured the game for our players. After more "slips" than usual on bases and costly errors on the part of the short stop the game was lost. 6—1.

Having made such a creditable showing, the Pittsburgh Scholastics came to Normal.

They were surprised to see themselves outplayed in the field and outbatted and finally beaten in the ninth inning, when, with nobody out and three men on bases the winning run was scored. Gayley featured a part of this game in his baserunning and scoring. Pitcher Blose allowed three scratch hits. The team worked as a unit, the ability to play together being very pleasing to the large crowd.

Indiana, May 23—By this time the team was recognized as an equal of its greatest rival and on a special train Kiski arrived at the grounds by 2 P. M. Perhaps the largest crowd, certainly the most enthusiastic, ever gathered to witness a hard struggle. The first three Kiski batters went out in one-two-three order, but Normal made things look dangerous. With the bases full and two out, Gordon stopped a line drive clearly labeled for two runs. Again in the seventh Normal filled the bases but that timely hit did not appear. The strain was plainly telling on the spectators. But the heart-breaking inning came in the eighth. A bad throw allowed a man to get to second when one of the four hits allowed in the whole game scored one run for Kiski. Defeat was evident, especially in the ninth with two down and no one on bases. The crowd turned away in order to avoid such a disaster. But if that eighth inning was a heart breaker, the ninth was to prove the sensation of the year. When Kiski came to bat in that ninth inning with one down, the bases full, it looked like a slaughter. But such danger added courage to the local team. The squeeze play was tried but with lightning-like rapidity Johns gathered the ball in and sent it home where Hart tagged the second man trying to score on the same play thus retiring the side. Hart came to bat and beat out a short infield hit, Blose made a beautiful single. Then what? Martin came to bat and labeling one of Gordon's in-shoots for a screaming single over third scored Hart. In the confusion and pandemonium that now reigned, Blose, undisturbed at 3rd base saw home plate unguarded and quicker than anyone could think came home on the run thus winning his own game. Kiski was surprised to have to wait for five innings to get a hit and then that man dying at first. The fielding was fast and pleasing, two fast double plays were secured by Normal. Altogether Normal showed the greatest strength, having 9 men left on bases against 5 men for Kiski; and six hits against 4 hits.

May 28 found Normal at St. Vincent College ready to meet a seemingly almost invincible enemy. The day was beautiful and in spite of the foreign territory such a display of courage and skill was shown as to win the admiration of every spectator. Normal did some heavy hitting, securing nine clean hits for a total of thirteen bases, but fast fielding prevented more than two runs to be scored for the home team.

On Decoration day Carnegie Tech came for two games. "Babe" Spear pitched a strong game in the morning, easily shutting the visitors out, 4-0, and allowing four scratch hits. Blore was even less courteous to his guests, allowing only three hits and beating them 5-0 in the afternoon. The comment of the Pittsburgh papers on two such defeats was that Normal must be traveling at a fast pace. The team had a total of twenty-one hits, among them a home run by Pierce and a two-base hit by Martin, which would have been a home run had not an automobile stopped it in left field.

On June 9 the rival teams, Kiski and Normal, went to Vandergrift to play off the tie games. The Saturday before, Normal went to Kiski and in a very much crippled condition lost the game, 10-0. Special trains were arranged for and Vandergrift threw open her hospitable doors to both schools. A crowd of nearly one thousand people came out to witness the struggle. For four innings both teams did their utmost. "Babe" Spear was invincible as far as Kiski was concerned and Normal could not hit Gordon. It was a fierce pitcher's battle, Spear having slightly the best end of it, striking out seven men in the four innings, against five for Gordon. At this point in the game a heavy rain came up and both teams were forced to return home to await another year's season, neither side having scored.

Trained Help Wanted

In the business world today there are no calls for the young man or young woman who "can do almost anything." The calls are for trained help, for persons who can do some one thing well. Private secretaries, stenographers, bookkeepers and trained office assistants are always in demand, and they command excellent salaries. The completion of one of these courses with us means Life-Long Independence
